TEACHER: Hello, do you have a reservation?

STUDENT: No, if it's possible, could we take a table for two?

TEACHER: Of course, would you like to sit by the window?

STUDENT: It's the same choose you.

TEACHER: Okay, come with me how many people sorry?

STUDENT: ehm, two.

TEACHER: okay come with me.

STUDENT: thank you.

TEACHER: Okay, have a seat, this is your table, thank you.

STUDENT: could we see the menu please?

TEACHER: of course, here you are you have two menus, would you like something to drink while you decide?

STUDENT: yes, I'll take a water.

TEACHER: do you prefer still or sparkling water?

STUDENT: Still.

TEACHER: Cold or room temperature?

STUDENT: Cold, thank you.

TEACHER: okay good. now, tell me when you're ready.

STUDENT: yes, first would you mind explain the dish of, what is the dish of the day?

TEACHER: yes, for the dish of the day we have two lasagnas one is vegetarian and one is with Bolognese sauce, and it comes the Bolognese sauce comes with mozzarella cheese while the lasagna vegetarian lasagna comes with zucchini and provola cheese.

STUDENT: no, I don't like. so, for starter I..... I would like a Caesar salad and for main course I'll take a cheeseburger, thank you.

TEACHER: okay, would you like anything else and would... you like anything as a fish or meat course?

STUDENT: no, it's okay.

TEACHER: Okay, would you like anything else to drink like a Coca-Cola, orange juice...

STUDENT: an ice tea if it's possible.

TEACHER: okay would you prefer lemon or peach?

STUDENT: peach

TEACHER: cool okay I'll be right back with the still water and the iced tea, give me a second. here you are, here is your still cold water and is your Iced tea and your Caesar salad.

STUDENT: Thank you.

TEACHER: You're welcome. Enjoy your meal.

TEACHER: Are you ready? Can I go with the cheeseburger.

STUDENT: Yes.

TEACHER: Okay. Here you are. Here's your cheeseburger. Enjoy.

STUDENT: Thank you.

TEACHER: Okay. Now... would you like to order a dessert? something to eat?

STUDENT: Yes. I'll take chocolate brownie if it's possible.

TEACHER: Okay.

We have different toppings if you want. There is the vanilla ice cream or there is chocolate or caramel. Which one would you prefer?

STUDENT: Vanilla ice cream is perfect. Okay.

TEACHER: So, vanilla ice cream right away. Vanilla ice cream and okay... here's your vanilla ice cream and are you okay with the drinks?

STUDENT: Yes, it's all perfect, thank you.

TEACHER: Very good, thank you very much.

Okay.

STUDENT: Ehm...Can I have a bill please?

TEACHER: Okay, would you like a coffee before?

STUDENT: No.

TEACHER: Okay, yes. If you give me one second, I will bring you the bill.

The bill is, give me a second...

okay, it's 20 pounds and 50 cents.

STUDENT: Okay, may I pay by card?

TEACHER: Of course you may. Give me one second, I'm going to take the machine.

Here's the machine.

TEACHER: You can tap. Very good. So, everything is fine. Would you like your receipt?

STUDENT: No, thank you. Thank you. It's all perfect. Goodbye.

TEACHER: Goodbye to you. Thank you for your visit and I hope to see you next time.

STUDENT: Of course. Goodbye.

TEACHER: Bye-bye.
